

13 January 2025

Our Ref: GA/01/2025

Prof. Mamadou Aliou Balde
President
Académie des Sciences du Guinée (ASG)
Conakry/Ratoma, Guinea
Email: bmaliou2002@yahoo.fr

Dear Prof. Balde,

ACCEPTANCE OF YOUR APPLICATION TO BECOME A MEMBER OF NASAC

Following your academy's application to become a member of NASAC, and after due consideration by the Board and General Assembly, I am pleased to formally inform you that the application has been successfully approved. This decision was made during NASAC's recent governance meetings, specifically the General Assembly held on 28 November 2024 in Algiers, Algeria.

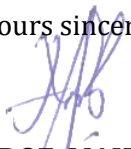

The inclusion of the Académie des Sciences du Guinée (ASG) as a member of NASAC marks a significant milestone. ASG's membership strengthens our collective mission to promote science, technology, and innovation across the African continent. By joining NASAC, ASG gains access to a vibrant network of national science academies, enabling collaboration, shared learning, and advocacy for evidence-based policies that address regional and global challenges.

On behalf of the NASAC Board and General Assembly, please accept our heartfelt congratulations on your membership!

We look forward to collaborating with ASG in fostering impactful initiatives and strengthening Africa's contribution to global science. For more information on NASAC and its recent activities, please visit our website, www.nasaonline.org. Feel free to contact the NASAC secretariat in Nairobi, Kenya for any future collaboration and support that the Network can provide to ASG.

We also take this opportunity to assure ASG of NASAC's highest compliments.

Yours sincerely,

PROF. MAHOUTON NORBERT HOUNKONNOU
NASAC President and Chair of the Board